SPECIAL RESEARCH ISSUE

16 Happening Now: Bulletins from clinical trials of new MS therapies
More than 130 clinical trials are currently in progress; other experimental drugs are in earlier stages of development.
BY GARY SULLIVAN

27 An Integrated Approach to MS Research and Care
Dr. Howard L. Weiner, 2007 recipient of the John Dystel Prize for Multiple Sclerosis Research, exemplifies this holistic approach.
BY MARCELLA DURAND

38 The Road Ahead
Where do we need to go to stop MS? The Society has a list of essential destinations from the Institute of Medicine.
BY MARTHA KING

41 What the Society Has Contributed to Progress

COVER: We asked illustrator J.W. Stewart for a cover that played off the famous Flammarion woodcut on the theme of discovery (left). The original is an anonymous wood engraving, the earliest documented appearance of which was in the astronomer Camille Flammarion’s L’atmosphère: météorologie populaire (“The Atmosphere: Popular Meteorology”) in 1888.
Research for a More Livable Life
Rehabilitation focuses on making the most of the present. Research is vital for developing effective and efficient methods.
BY WINSTON DAVIS

Looking to high-touch
Looking to high-tech

When Children Get MS
An estimated 8,000–10,000 Americans under 18 have MS. The Society has launched initiatives to provide care—and to spark research.
BY DEBORAH HERTZ, MPH

Genetic Research at Home: Will your baby develop MS?

Concerning Cannabis
Details on current research in the U.S. and around the globe.
BY MARCELLA DURAND WITH NANCY HOLLAND, EDD, MSRN

A $30 Million Promise
We promise to tackle four under-researched areas—with your help.
BY THE DEVELOPMENT STAFF

headsup

inbox

Iwantyoutoknow
How we choose what research to fund
by John Richert, MD

nationalMSsociety
Research funding is a priority for MS activists on Capitol Hill fightingforchanges

What can be done when research produces expensive therapies
by Gary Sullivan

letmetellyou
… about our youngest researcher, fifteen-year-old Jourdan Urbach
by Rochelle Kraut

inprint
Multiple Sclerosis:
The History of a Disease

onmymind
Joyce Nelson, Society president & CEO, is thinking about research destinations
The Society does not endorse products, services, or manufacturers. Such names appear here solely because they are considered valuable information. The Society assumes no liability for the use or contents of any product or service mentioned.